IN LEVY'S DEFENSE.

Witnesses Called in Behalf of the Ex-Ward Man.

Police Capt. Allaire Tells of Krumm's Anti-Police Proclivities.

The Accused Policeman May Know His Fate This Evening.

It was promised this morning that he trial of ex-Precinct Detective Jeremiah S. Levy, for bribery, would reach its end to-day. The case for the proseution was completed when Judge Marine adjourned the trial last evening. Abraham Levy, counsel for the accused policeman, promised that he should not ake more than ten minutes in opening he case for the defense, and that he would have all his testimony in in Your hours. At that rate, the case would to to the jury by 5 o'clock this after-

Mr. Levy had not at that time deided whether to call the accused as a Assistant District-Attorney Wellman eclared that he would ask no better fun than to cross-examine Levy.

Policeman Levy was still pale from the effects of his prostration of Wednesday night when he was called to the bar at

Among the listeners to Abe Levy's corroborate Capt. Charles Krumm, ecessary under the law, were only rumm's doubles, creatures and depenents, and that they could not be held

He would call only such witnesses as were necessary to explain what might be taken to be criminal acts if left unexplained.

"You are not here to pass upon his efficiency or inefficiency as a police officer," said Mr. Levy, "but to determine whether he committed the very hemous crime charged against him. The simple question is, was Officer Levy-bribed to neglect his official duty? Did Krumm tell the truth when he testified that he entered into a corrupt agreement with Levy to pay $20 a week to Levy for being allowed to break the law?" He would call only such witnesses as Levy for being allowed to break the law?"

Mr. Levy set out to show what a pressure had been put upon the defendant. He told how Policeman Levy had been bidleted only a formight ago, yet had been called hastily to trial in advance of more than 100 accused persons, who were languishing in the Tombs.

Judge Martine stopped him, cautioning him that criticism of the Court or its procedure was not proper. Mr. Levy desiled any intention to criticise.

The speaker said that Capt. Krumm had long held an enmity against the Police Department, and that his spite and malice had made him prefer charges sgainst several policemen, and that he had engaged of late in efforts to procure witnesses against Policeman Levy.

He asked if the jury would pick Levy rul as a sacrifice to appease public clamor.

Capt. Allnire a Witness. Capt. Allaire a witness.

Capt. Anthony Allaire was called as the first witness. He testified that he had been a member of the Police Department since 1885, as five golden stripes on his curf partially indicated.

He was Captain at one time of the Elizabeth street squad. Krumm preferred charges against him ten years ago, and the charges were dismissed. Capt. Allaire said the Krumm place was orderly so far as he knew, and that it was conducted lawfully, except that Krumm frequently encroached upon proscribed hours in the sale of liquor. Allaire has been a Police Captain since 1887, and was nine years at the Eldridge street station.

the Eldridge street station.

Mr. Levy wanted to prove by Capt.
Alkire that Kuenstler Halle was a bad place, but when Judge Martine said that to his mind, if it were shown that Krumm's was a bad place that would only make Policeman Levy's crime so much the greater Mr. Levy dropped that line. otto Strohl, an electrician, at 18 Dewis not on trial.

Judge Martine said it was material as tending to affect the credit of Capt. Knum as a witness, Krumm having testified that the bell had been there affect years, and that it had not been in condition to use in a year.

Tou have seen that bell operated?"

perhaps six or eight of the other kind."
Mr. Wellman drew out that these bonds were accepted at the station during the captaincy of Capt. Devery.
"And Capt. Devery was recently tried for neglect of duty, wasn't he?"
Mr. Levy objected. The question was ruled out and then Mr. Levy said:
"I think it only fair to say that Capt. Devery was acquitted."
At this Judge Martine opened the vials of his wrath on the lawyer.
"Well, then, Mr. Wellman and I were both wrong." said Levy, quietly, fanning himself placidly, much to the aggravation of Judge Martine.

Krumm Said He'd Get "Square."

"You are sure that Capt. Krumm called Policeman Levy a vile name, and said he was going to get square with him for arresting him?" asked Mr. Wellman, and getting an affirmative answer, fired this one:
"Don't you know, Mr. Selig, that as a matter of fact Levy never did arrest Capt. Krumm, and that he was transferred to Harlem because he didn't arrest Krumm?"
"I don't know anything about that. I am only telling you what Krumm said. I don't know how big a liar he is," retorted the milkman.

Mr. Wellman tried to impugn Selig's motive in giving bail for law-breakers and for testifying for Levy. Lawyer Levy asked:

"Mr. Selig, you are assistant leader in Tammany Hall in the Third District, and that is the reason you are frequently sent for to go on bail bonds, isn't it?"

Mr. Selig assented.

Mr. Selig assented. Krunem Said He'd Get "Square."

quently sent for to go on ball bonds, isn't it?"

Mr. Selig assented.

Mr. Wellman scored Selig for betraying Krumm, whom he had known and with whom he had been close friends for eighteen years, to Capt. Cortright, whom he had known only a few months. "I object unless Mr. Wellman will acknowledge on the record the truth of Mr. Selig a testimony," said Mr. Levy.

Judge Martine sustained the objection and for once, for about two minutes, Mr. Wellman was unable to tell just where he was at, his mind being confused by the peculiar form of the objection. Then he abandoned the attack.

pening speech was Capt. Allaire.

Brushing by every one, he went immediately into Supt. Byrnes's office, wherehe remained in earnest conversation with the Superintendent for fully threequarters of an hour.

During this time he handled a "World" newspaper file containing an interview with ex-Capt. Doherty yesterday, In the interview Doherty said many things about Martin and others, which undoubtedly accounted for the surly humor the Commissioner was in this morning. At 11 o'clock he went to his office upstairs, where an "Evening World" reporter asked to see him. This was re-fused. He had no time to talk; he was is as follows:

ferd. Martin got nervous when the newspapers got after his record. He hollered murder then."

Doberty said that Mr. Nicoll had become counsel for the captains through orders issued from Headquarters. Doberty had told Nicoll that he had transferred his $18,000 house to his wife. Doberty was astonished, he says, at the flerce prosecution of Assistant District-Attorney Osborne. He said that he had personally asked Col. Fellows to favor him in the District-Attorney's office.

Doberty complained that George F. Roesch, of the Seventh Assembly District, had made his life miserable by running the precinct, backed by the authority that Martin had appointed Doberty a Police Captain. He also scored Wellman for posing Martin on points he was going to bring out in the trial and instructing the President how to rule on them.
